Prep enrolments 2017

A specific reminder to all Kingsville families if you have a younger child to begin Prep in 2017 and you have not yet enrolled them please take action regarding this now.

Acting Principal's Message

Students at Kingsville are continually immersed in wonderful literature each day in the classrooms and specialist areas of the school. Fiction and non-fiction texts read individually, in small groups or as a whole class provide; skill development, knowledge, enjoyment and opportunities to think deeply about an author's intent and our own connections to the information being conveyed by the author and illustrator.

Engaging in Book Week allows this already rich reading environment to be viewed with a greater focus and connects us to the wider community of readers across Australia on a common theme – this year being 'Australia! Story Country'.

Book Week at Kingsville has been another great success and well done to students, staff and Kingsville families. Activities planned for each day during the week engaged the students and of course the Thursday parades were the highlight. These activities unite a school and provide wonderful primary school memories.

To the parents and students what a great effort from prep-6 on displaying creativity by coming up with a costume for the parade. So much thought was put into the costumes and the students I spoke to all knew who their character was and, the related book or author. Too many characters to name them all but I'm sure I saw, Harry Potter, The Mad Hatter, Alice in Wonderland, Ruby Red the Fairy, Red Riding Hood... brilliant! Dress up days can be challenging, but certainly well worth the effort.

Thank you again to the staff for your enthusiasm and the Book Week Team, Laura McCray and Sheri Seyit for planning, organising and turning up the volume on literature during this annual week initiated by the Children's Book Council of Australia.

Lateness Blitz

Daily school attendance is the single most important factor for all children to succeed in education and to ensure they don't fall behind both socially and developmentally. Children and young people who regularly attend school have better health and life outcomes. It is important that children develop habits of regular attendance at an early age.

Of course we know that with all the best planning and intent there are times when being late is unavoidable, however these times should be few and far between. For your child, arriving late to school occasionally won't cause major disruption. Inevitably, children will feel sick or tired some mornings, or other situations will prevent them from being on time. But chronic lateness eventually takes its toll on a child's overall educational experience.

One of the most important aspects of school is that it is organized, scheduled and predictable. Students depend on the structure of the day. They know where they have to be and when. They know the main purpose for being in school is to learn and that routines are in place precisely to help them focus on that learning. When students are repeatedly tardy, these routines are disrupted. Children who are often late have trouble settling in and mastering routines. Tardiness can throw off their whole morning or even their day, especially if the late commute to school was stressful. We know that this has a significant impact not only on the students themselves who often feel upset and anxious, but importantly it disrupts other students and often means either important key instructions are missed or have to be repeated

Students are expected to attend the school in which they are enrolled, during normal school hours every day of each term. Students arriving late to school is an ongoing challenge for many schools. The numbers of students coming late at Kingsville has continued to increase throughout first semester this year with teachers reporting significant numbers of students arriving after 8.55a.m.

During term 3, Kingsville Primary School held a Lateness Blitz for three weeks from 18th July to 5th August. The lateness blitz provided some interesting data for the school.

- During this period 171 students were late to school, an average of 12 students per day.
- The majority of these students arrived at school between 9:00am and 9:40am.
- The number of students arriving late each week was approximately 55 students in the first two weeks, with a slight increase in the third week of the Lateness Blitz, which included 60 students.
- Traffic accounted for 30% of the reasons why students were late, followed by appointments and sleeping in.

- Other reasons for lateness included not being organised, walking to school slowly and feeling unwell.

The data tells us there are legitimate reasons for being late or tardy; appointments, unforeseen traffic problems but significantly it was due to time management.

One of the attitudes that as a PYP school we consider to be important to the way we interact within our World is respect. One way we can demonstrate our respect is by arriving at school on time, ready and organised to begin the day. This shows our respect for learning, teachers and our classmates.

In highlighting this issue of lateness we hope to improve the arrival times and attendance of students and subsequently improve learning outcomes as well. We look for your continued support and assistance.

Peter Ritchie
Assistant Principal/PYP Coordinator

Kingsville Fete Stall Signup

Our 2016 School Fete is just seven weeks away. This exciting event is taking shape with rides, entertainment and stalls being finalised. The class stalls are many and varied this year. To ensure these stalls operate smoothly throughout the day we need class parent support. We would ask parents to volunteer a time throughout the day of the fete where you can support your classroom stall. At this point in the planning the support is varied across grades with many requiring timeslots to be filled. Each stall will require between 2 and 3 parents manning the station each hour. If you have not yet considered this involvement we would appreciate your deliberation on the matter.

We look forward to seeing the continued support from all families to ensure a successful and enjoyable fete for the students and community of Kingsville.

Goldilocks

This is a story about a little girl, it may give you quite a shock.

This little girl was a robber, her name was Goldilocks. Goldilocks was walking through the woods, Skipping along, looking to steal some lovely goods. When she came across a house that smelt very, very yummy.

She went inside and grumble, grumble went her tummy.

Little did she know that just before,

A family of bears came out the door.

She saw delicious porridge in three bowls.

She ate the first one down in a whole.

She stopped, thought for a second and said 'AGHH TOO HOT!'

So she went across to the two other pots.

She tried the second pot, she wasn't sold.

This one was much too cold!

The last one she tried gave her a fright,

This one was absolutely, perfectly right.

Her legs where hurting so she went next door,

To a room with three chairs, it was perfect, she was sure.

The first chair she sat on was too hard,

It felt like it was made of card.

The second chair she sat on made her sink,

Then she saw a beautiful chair, it was BRIGHT PINK!

She loved, oh it was beautiful, yes,

This chair, she knew, was the best.

She sat on the chair then it broke with a SNAP!

She then decided she needed a nice, long nap.

She felt very tired so she went upstairs.

Little did she know that soon would come the bears.

She was feeling a bit tired and had a sore head,

Oh, yes, she saw tree lovely beds!

The first one she tried was too hard,

The second one felt a bit like lard,

But oh, the third one she wished she could keep,

And very soon she fell straight asleep.

Now that she was in bed, she wasn't complaining anymore,

But those three bears came in through the door!

There was a papa bear, mama bear and a tiny bear.

when they saw all their porridge gone it gave them quite a scare.

They went to the next room and saw two of the chairs perfectly fine.

Then the tiny bear saw his and said 'WHAT HAPPENED TO MINE?!

They went upstairs 'A GIRL!' the mama bear said.

As they saw a girl in tiny bear's bed.

They scared Goldilocks all the way home,

Then she ran all the way to Rome.
